

My God Cares for Me (1 Pet. 5:7)

© Daniel J. Harrison, 2023

Tune: AURELIA for the verses, ORIGINAL for the refrain and bridge

1: My God you are surprised not, a sinner I was born
Yet guilt and shame surround me, engulfing me with scorn
I'll hold to your great promise, in crimson robe adorned:
You comfort all your children when our hearts o'er sin mourn

Refrain: My God, you care for me
I'll cast ev'ry anxiety
Though the clouds have made my path blurry
My God, you still care for me

2: Though arrows fly against me, to pierce me til I break
To strike me til I stumble, unsure more I can take
I'll hold to your great promise, that Satan cannot shake:
You're nearest to your children whose hearts are filled with ache

3: Abandoned do I lay here, I do not understand
An outcast rendered helpless, now fallen, feeling damned
I'll hold to your great promise, on days my feet don't land:
You hold up all your children, heartfelt with your right hand

Bridge: In my weakness grant your mercy
For my sins I fear to speak
In my weakness show your pow'r, to Transform vile worms like me
